

LEGACY WATER
FOUNDATION

Location

Jacmel, Haiti

Located approximately 4 hours drive south of Port au Prince, Jacmel is Haiti's 4th largest city with an estimated population of over 140,000. Only a few miles from the epicenter of the recent earthquake, this already impoverished region was heavily devastated.

The NGO's Work (Lifeline Haiti)

Lifeline Haiti has been involved in building and managing over 50 schools throughout Haiti since 2005. This Canadian NGO feeds 1500 children per day as part of its schooling program for the least fortunate children in Haiti. Legacy and Lifeline have partnered to provide these children with clean drinking water and a means to support this NGO's life saving work.

Project Info (Water Bottling Business)

Together we will build a 15' x 20' building, full water treatment system, water bottling (sanitation and filling) station and provide 5 gal water bottles for re-sale.

It is our goal to alleviate the never ending water issues for this group of children in the region and also give Lifeline Haiti some business revenues to help pay for the ever increasing costs to educate their community. We estimate this store will generate $6,000USD per month to pay for 3 full schools to educate and provide one daily meal for all students.

Jacmel, Haiti

New proposed water store project

Legacy Water Foundation:

LWF will be assisting the Lifeline Jacmel water store project with building structure costs, equipment, installation, technical training, and support. This will support Lifeline in generating local revenues by supplying and selling treated water at a bottling store located at strategic location positioned in the city of Jacmel.

Lifeline is a small organization founded by Mr. Bob Davisson. Lifeline's Bob Davisson is a recent winner of the Canadian International Champions of Change competition sponsored by CBC.

Note* Special consideration to existing local business has been considered as to make sure this project does not interfere with any existing local commerce.
